

Storm Restoration and Outage Credit Policy

Policy OP-110 · Cymbal Energy Customer Operations · Effective June 1, 2026

1. Purpose

This policy explains how Cymbal Energy restores power after outages, how estimated restoration times are set, and which credits residential customers can receive after a long outage during a major storm.

2. Restoration priorities

After a major storm, crews restore service in this order:

- Public safety hazards, including downed and energized lines.
- Critical facilities: hospitals, 911 centers, water and wastewater plants, and emergency shelters.
- Transmission lines and substations, which restore the largest number of customers at once.
- Main distribution feeders, then neighborhood lines, then individual service lines.

Customers on the Medical Priority Registry receive outage alerts and welfare checks, but restoration is not guaranteed to be faster during a Major Storm Event. Customers who rely on powered medical equipment should keep a backup power plan.

3. Estimated restoration times

Estimated restoration times come only from the Outage Management System and are updated as crews assess damage. Representatives and digital agents must quote them exactly and must not estimate their own.

4. Major Storm Events

Cymbal Energy declares a Major Storm Event (MSE) when more than 10% of customers are out of service at the same time, or when the National Weather Service issues a tropical storm or hurricane warning for our service area and outages follow. Each event receives an MSE number, for example MSE-2026-04.

5. Storm Hardship Credit

A residential customer whose service is out for more than 72 consecutive hours during a declared Major Storm Event may receive a one-time $25 Storm Hardship Credit on their next bill.

- The credit is not automatic. The customer must request it within 30 days after service is restored, at cymbalenergy.example/storm-credit or by calling 1-800-555-0142.
- One credit per account per Major Storm Event.
- Outages that are not part of a declared Major Storm Event do not qualify.
- Commercial accounts are not eligible.

6. Food, medication and property losses

Cymbal Energy does not reimburse food, medication or other spoilage caused by weather-related outages, including Major Storm Events. Customers may be covered by their homeowner's or renter's insurance.

When an outage is caused by a failure of Cymbal Energy equipment on a clear-weather day, a customer may file a claim with the Claims Department within 60 days. Claims for food spoilage are limited to $300 per household and require photos or receipts.

7. Reconnection fees during storms

Reconnection fees are waived for any account restored during a declared Major Storm Event.
